

Editor's Note: Association Newsletter Article – January 2010

Contact: Amy Statkevics (303.361.4769, amy.statkevics@pinnacol.com)

Take Advantage of Pinnacol Policyholder Seminars and New Symposiums

In 2010, Pinnacol Assurance will offer a variety of seminars designed to help policyholders learn how to keep employees safe, return employees to work if they are injured and keep their workers' compensation costs down. These seminars emphasize real world, practical information based on Pinnacol staff's years of experience in loss prevention, claims management and more. In addition to the seminars, Pinnacol will also be hosting its first Safety Symposiums in Denver and Grand Junction in the fall of 2010. The symposiums will take place over a day and a half, and you can choose from a variety of safety-specific tracks that vary from entry-level to advanced safety training. Specific information about Pinnacol's symposiums will be available on www.pinnacol.com in the coming months.

Some of the seminars that Pinnacol will be offering to policyholders in 2010 include "Basics of Safety Management," "Effective Training for All Employees," "Cost Containment Certification/Safety Program Development," "Accident Investigation and Analysis," and more. Choose the course that is right for you and gain practical information to take back to your workplace and begin using right away.

The 2010 seminar schedule includes:

January

- OSHA Record Keeping/What to Expect From an OSHA Inspection – Denver

February

- Basics of Safety Management – Denver
- Cost Containment Certification/Safety Program Development – Denver, Grand Junction
- Effective Training for All Employees - Denver

March

- Accident Investigation and Analysis - Denver
- Office Ergonomics/Train the Evaluator - Denver
- OSHA 10-Hour Construction – Glenwood Springs

April

- Creating a Written Modified Duty Policy Workshop - Denver
- Defensive Driving – Denver
- Electrical Safety – Denver

May

- Claims Management and Uncovering Workers' Compensation Fraud – Denver
- Effective Training for All Employees – Grand Junction
- Essential Components of Risk Management – Denver

June

- OSHA 10-Hour General Industry – Denver, Grand Junction
- Back and Manual Material Handling Inquiry Prevention – Denver

A complete schedule of policyholder seminars is available at www.pinnacol.com. Select the Safety section at the top of the home page then choose the Safety Seminars and Training link. For more information regarding policyholder seminars, please contact your Pinnacol marketing manager.

###