

Editor's Note: Association Newsletter Article – July 2010

Contact: Amy Statkevics (303.361.4769, amy.statkevics@pinnacol.com)

Risk Management Symposium Offered for Policyholders, Agents

New format offers a variety of risk management and workers' compensation courses.

This year, Pinnacol policyholders and agents have an exciting new option for learning about keeping workers safe on the job, understanding workers' compensation and a host of other topics. Pinnacol's policyholder training seminar program will be consolidated into a "Risk Management Symposium," allowing policyholders to choose and attend a variety of courses. And, as always, the courses are free.

New course offerings

In addition to a full slate of courses on workplace safety, attendees can choose to attend courses on a variety of topics affecting their workers' compensation coverage and their businesses, including:

- The Essential Elements of a Wellness Program
- Return-to-Work: Myth Busting
- 2010 Legislation Impact on Workers' Compensation

Dates, times, locations

Pinnacol's Risk Management Symposium will be held in two locations:

- Denver: Aug. 26 and 27, Arvada Center for the Performing Arts; breakfast and registration begins at 7 a.m.
- Grand Junction: Sept. 15, Two Rivers Convention Center; breakfast and registration begins at 7 a.m.

To see the full symposium schedule and complete course descriptions, go to Pinnacol's website at www.pinnacol.com/employer/training.

For more information, call your Pinnacol marketing manager.

###