Running in the 'Boat

Make sure to bring lots of water - the altitude might get you!

Running in Steamboat Springs is serious business. In fact, Colorado Runner Magazine recently selected the Steamboat Springs Running Series as its choice for Colorado's best race series. From trail running to marathons, Steamboat Springs has a summer running agenda that will literally knock your running socks off.

Steamboat Springs Running Series

In 2008, the Steamboat Springs Running Series celebrates its 12th season with its annual 14 challenges including events like 400-yard fun runs and 195 mile treks over some of Colorado's most spectacular terrain. Hosting more than 4,500 runners, these races have helped distinguish this series as the largest in Colorado. Races include some of Steamboat's favorites like the Steamboat Marathon, the Mount Werner Classic and the Wild West Relay. Mark your calendar and get involved in this great Steamboat Springs summer tradition.

USA Trail Running Championship

The world now gets to see the great running terrain of northwest Colorado. Two years running, the Steamboat Springs Running Series has been awarded the USA Track and Field 10k Trail Championship. This championship will be held on Sunday, June 29th at Howelsen Hill with a start and finish at the base. This exciting world class event boosts the community's recognition within the running world.

Run, Rabbit, Run!

Steamboat's second annual ultra 50-mile marathon, Run, Rabbit, Run, features spectacular scenery on one of the most challenging ultra marathon courses in the United States. The race begins at the Steamboat Springs Ski Area and proceeds up Mount Werner along the Continental Divide to Rabbit Ears Peak and back on mountain trails and roads. This event is for the well-trained, well-prepared athlete and is sure to excite even the non-runner. It makes my hamstrings sore just thinking about it...
